Unit Assignments

Unit II Article Review

In the lesson, we discussed the PATRIOT Act. This assignment provides you with an opportunity to further explore this act by reviewing an article of your choice.

Using the CSU Online Library, locate one article from a professional journal. This article should be no more than four years old and should be at least three pages in length. The article selected should discuss either the positive effects or harm that has resulted from the creation of the PATRIOT Act.

The purpose of an article review is to let other readers know what the work is about so that they may decide whether they want to read the entire work. The review should not only describe the work, but it should also evaluate it. Include each of the following within your article review:

- an introduction to the article,
- the key points from the article concerning the impact of the PATRIOT Act on civil liberties,
- a summary of the article’s conclusion, and
- an evaluation of the article, to include the following:
  - Why is this article important?
  - Should others read it?
  - Was the article well-written (e.g., organized, easy to understand)?
  - What is your perspective and opinion on the article?

The completed article review has to be a minimum of two full pages in length, not including the title page and reference page. The article review should be written in paragraph format. This article review requires APA style formatting, including the citing of key points and material utilizing in-text citations and references.
Papers will be submitted for electronic evaluation to determine any possible academic integrity violations. The Academic Integrity Policy is available through the myCSU portal for CSU and through this course. Students are encouraged to contact the Success Center, which is a valuable resource available to assist with academic writing and APA formatting.

Information about accessing the Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

Unit III Case Study

Using the CSU Online Library or a website that contains case studies related to international law and issues, treaties, and national security, select a case study that interests you personally. This case study must involve an international issue that can be linked to our national security, as well as a treaty that is related to national security. Read it thoroughly. Once you finish reading the case study, draft a three-page paper in proper APA format, consisting of the following elements:

1. A short summary of the facts regarding the international conflict of your case. This summary can usually be done in one paragraph. If, however, your case is complicated and requires further discussion, you may exceed the page limit.
2. The bulk of your paper, which must be at least three pages will address at least three of the questions listed below. This section may also be extended if necessary, but you must meet the three page minimum requirement.
3. The conclusion of your paper will be a short statement regarding your own thoughts of the case. This is your reflection and will be based on your personal opinion and perspective. This section should not require more than one paragraph. Process your thoughts carefully, and condense them into a few sentences.

Questions to address in your assignment:

- Critically analyze the premise of the case study, and determine its impact on national security, legislation of domestic laws, and/or the ability of the United States to adequately enforce its homeland security laws.
- Review any historical implications of the case (i.e. have the countries had tense relations in the past, which will make future relations unlikely?)
- What elements of the country's decision to act, legislate, react, or legislate had an impact on treaties and international law?
- If you were a part of the cabinet during the event(s), would you have handled it similarly? Why? If not, what advisement would you have offered, and why?
- Conclude with your own thoughts on the case.

Your case study must be a minimum of three pages, not including the title page and reference page. Your case study must be double-spaced, typed using 12 point Times New Roman font, and contain one-inch margins. Citations and references must be formatted according to APA guidelines.

Information about accessing the Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

Unit VII Article Review

In this lesson, we defined ethics and differentiated between laws and ethics. This assignment provides you with an opportunity to further explore this topic by reviewing an article on this matter. The article selected should identify a current ethical dilemma or one that may potentially arise within the Department of Homeland Security. Using the CSU Online Library, locate one article from a professional journal. This article should be no more than four years old, and the article should be at least three pages in length.

The purpose of an article review is to let other readers know what the work is about so that they may decide whether they want to read the entire work. The review should not only describe the work, but it should also evaluate it. Include each of the following within your article review:

- an introduction to the article,
- the key points from the article,
- a summary of the article’s conclusion, and
- an evaluation of the article, to include:
  - Why is this article important?
  - Should others read it?
  - Was the article well-written (e.g., organized, easy to understand)?
  - What is your perspective and opinion on the article?
The completed article review has to be a minimum of two full pages in length, not including the title page and reference page. The article review should be written in paragraph format. This article review requires APA style formatting, including the citing of key points and material utilizing in-text citations and references.

Papers will be submitted for electronic evaluation to determine any possible academic integrity violations. The Academic Integrity Policy is available through the myCSU portal for CSU and through this course. Students are encouraged to contact the Success Center, which is a valuable resource available to assist with academic writing and APA formatting.

Information about accessing the Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

APA Guidelines

The application of the APA writing style shall be practical, functional, and appropriate to each academic level, with the primary purpose being the documentation (citation) of sources. CSU requires that students use APA style for certain papers and projects. Students should always carefully read and follow assignment directions and review the associated grading rubric when available. Students can find CSU’s Citation Guide by clicking here. This document includes examples and sample papers and provides information on how to contact the CSU Success Center.

Grading Rubrics

This course utilizes analytic grading rubrics as tools for your professor in assigning grades for all learning activities. Each rubric serves as a guide that communicates the expectations of the learning activity and describes the criteria for each level of achievement. In addition, a rubric is a reference tool that lists evaluation criteria and can help you organize your efforts to meet the requirements of that learning activity. It is imperative for you to familiarize yourself with these rubrics because these are the primary tools your professor uses for assessing learning activities.

Rubric categories include: (1) Assessment (Written Response) and (2) Assignment. However, it is possible that not all of the listed rubric types will be used in a single course (e.g., some courses may not have Assessments).

The Assessment (Written Response) rubric can be found embedded in a link within the directions for each Unit Assessment. However, these rubrics will only be used when written-response questions appear within the Assessment.

Each Assignment type (e.g., article critique, case study, research paper) will have its own rubric. The Assignment rubrics are built into Blackboard, allowing students to review them prior to beginning the Assignment and again once the Assignment has been scored. This rubric can be accessed via the Assignment link located within the unit where it is to be submitted. Students may also access the rubric through the course menu by selecting “Tools” and then “My Grades.”

Again, it is vitally important for you to become familiar with these rubrics because their application to your Assessments and Assignments is the method by which your instructor assigns all grades.

Final Examination Guidelines

Final Exams are to be administered to students by an approved Proctor. CSU approves two flexible proctoring options: a standard Proctor, who is chosen by the student and approved by the university, or Remote Proctor Now (RP Now), an on-demand, third-party testing service that proctors examinations for a small fee.

Students choosing RP Now must have an operational webcam/video with audio, a high-speed Internet connection, and the appropriate system rights required to download and install software.

To review the complete Examination Proctor Policy, including a list of acceptable Proctors, Proctor responsibilities, Proctor approval procedures, and the Proctor Agreement Form, go to the myCSU Student Portal from the link below.

http://mycsu.columbiasouthern.edu

You are permitted four (4) hours to complete this exam in the presence of your approved Proctor. This is an open book exam. Only course textbooks, writing utensils, and a calculator, if necessary, are allowed when taking proctored exams.
Communication Forums

These are non-graded discussion forums that allow you to communicate with your professor and other students. Participation in these discussion forums is encouraged, but not required. You can access these forums with the buttons in the Course Menu. Instructions for subscribing/unsubscribing to these forums are provided below.

Once you have completed Unit VIII, you MUST unsubscribe from the forum; otherwise, you will continue to receive e-mail updates from the forum. You will not be able to unsubscribe after your course end date.

Click here for instructions on how to subscribe/unsubscribe and post to the Communication Forums.

Ask the Professor

This communication forum provides you with an opportunity to ask your professor general or course content questions. Questions may focus on Blackboard locations of online course components, textbook or course content elaboration, additional guidance on assessment requirements, or general advice from other students.

Questions that are specific in nature, such as inquiries regarding assessment/assignment grades or personal accommodation requests, are NOT to be posted on this forum. If you have questions, comments, or concerns of a non-public nature, please feel free to email your professor. Responses to your post will be addressed or emailed by the professor within 48 hours.

Before posting, please ensure that you have read all relevant course documentation, including the syllabus, assessment/assignment instructions, faculty feedback, and other important information.

Student Break Room

This communication forum allows for casual conversation with your classmates. Communication on this forum should always maintain a standard of appropriateness and respect for your fellow classmates. This forum should NOT be used to share assessment answers.
