Course Description

Surveys the social, political, and economic history of the United States from pre-Colonial discovery through the conclusion of post-Civil War Reconstruction.

Course Textbook

Course Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Describe pre-colonial America with an emphasis on identifying Native American cultures and settlements, including tools, agriculture, and trade.
2. Assess the influence of political, economic, or social divisions on rifts that developed between colonial regions and the crown.
3. Describe the construction of early America, including independence, nationalism, party politics, and the creation of a new federal democracy from individual republics.
4. Interpret the impact of political parties on American society, government, or culture.
5. Identify the impact of significant figures on American lands from colonial times through the American Civil War.
6. Analyze the impact of reform movements, from the pre-Colonial to Reconstruction eras in America, on society, economics, politics, or religion.
7. Defend an interpretation of a uniquely American philosophy or ideal with the use of appropriate primary and secondary sources.
8. Analyze the impact of the Civil War, including the political, economic, or social issues related to Reconstruction.

Credits

Upon completion of this course, the students will earn three (3) hours of college credit.

Course Structure

1. Unit Learning Outcomes: Each unit contains Learning Outcomes that specify the measurable skills and knowledge students should gain upon completion of the unit.
2. Unit Lessons: Each unit contains a Unit Lesson, which discusses unit material.
3. Reading Assignments: Each unit contains Reading Assignments from one or more chapters from the textbook and Internet resources. Suggested Readings are listed in the Unit II, III, V, and VIII Study Guides to aid students in their course of study. The readings themselves may or may not be provided in the course, but students are encouraged to read the resources listed if the opportunity arises as they have valuable information that expands upon the lesson material. Students will not be tested on their knowledge of the Suggested Readings.
4. Learning Activities (Non-Graded): These non-graded Learning Activities are provided in Units I-V and VII to aid students in their course of study.
5. Unit Quizzes: This course contains six Unit Quizzes, one to be completed at the end of Units II-VI and VIII. Quizzes are used to give students quick feedback on their understanding of the unit material and are composed of ordering and matching questions.

6. Unit Assessments: This course contains two Unit Assessments, one to be completed at the end of Units I and VI. Assessments are composed of written-response questions.

7. Unit Assignments: Students are required to submit for grading Unit Assignments in Units II-V, VII, and VIII. Specific information and instructions regarding these assignments are provided below. Grading rubrics are included with these assignments. Specific information about accessing these rubrics is provided below.

8. Ask the Professor: This communication forum provides you with an opportunity to ask your professor general or course content related questions.

9. Student Break Room: This communication forum allows for casual conversation with your classmates.

Unit Assignments

Unit II Essay

Compose a 500-word point-of-view essay illustrating a chosen perspective of one of the figures listed below:

- a citizen of Jamestown, VA during Bacon’s Rebellion,
- a former indentured servant witnessing a slave auction,
- a Spanish citizen during the Pueblo Revolt,
- a Puritan sailor witness to the Arbella sermon,
- a citizen of Salem, MA during the witch trials, or
- a Chesapeake farmer reacting to the Navigation Acts.

As this is a point-of-view essay, a modern perspective will not accurately address what the question is asking for. It is strongly suggested that at least one selection from the provided source book be used to research the event and views of the time. All sources and their use must be appropriately identified using APA style.

Information about accessing the Blackboard Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

Unit III Essay

Select one debated topic from the three below, and construct a 500-word (minimum) academic essay that provides an overview of the debate—making certain to include key individuals, events, acts, the time period, the location, and why the debate was initiated. Identify the victor and why you feel they “won” the debate. Considering current events, what events experienced today are similar to your selected debated topic? Explain whether political, religious, or economic concerns were the most dominant motivation. Click here for a PDF of additional requirements for Unit III essay sources.
Debated Topics (choose one)

1. The appropriate action of the colonists in response to taxation imposed by the British crown
2. The proper response by American colonists concerning the standing presence of British officials and soldiers
3. The ability of the colonists to rule themselves while still respecting the king’s authority

Information about accessing the Blackboard Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

Unit IV Essay

In a 500-word essay, choose one of the following ratification documents, and provide a brief overview of the paper’s message and the author’s intent in writing it. If you were living during this time, what would your response be to the paper’s message? What is the correlation between the paper’s message and current events? Click here for a PDF of additional requirements for Unit IV essay sources.

Choose one from the following:

1. Antifederalist Papers # 1
2. Antifederalist Papers # 9
3. Antifederalist Papers # 37
4. Antifederalist Papers # 84
5. Federalist Papers # 1
6. Federalist Papers # 10
7. Federalist Papers # 37
8. Federalist Papers # 68
9. Federalist Papers # 69
10. Federalist Papers # 84

Suggested sources to assist you in locating the ratified documents include:

http://www.thefederalistpapers.org/anti-federalist-papers
http://thomas.loc.gov/home/histdox/fedpapers.html

Be sure to include all sources used, including the textbooks, in APA style on a separate references page.

Information about accessing the Blackboard Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

Unit V Speech

Choose a president from this unit (George Washington to John Quincy Adams) and write a two-page public address/speech that covers a minimum of two important issues (at least one covering a military issue and one on government evolution) that took place during that president’s term(s). Your speech will need to be in APA style.

Information about accessing the Blackboard Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

Unit VII Essay

Pick one of the notable pre-war era politicians or social figures addressed in the lecture, and assume their position and beliefs. After introducing yourself as your selected figure, choose two issues of note presented in this unit (1820-1861), and provide two separate editorial responses (minimum of 250 words for each issue) that you feel best represents your chosen figure’s perspective during this period. Both responses will be submitted together as one document.

A few stipulations: you may not choose a work written by your selected figure, two works by the same person, two works about any one issue, or any topics from outside of this unit. Lastly, do not reprint any actual editorials from the time as doing so will lead to steep deductions.

All sources used, including the textbook, must be referenced; paraphrased and quoted material must have accompanying APA citations.
Information about accessing the Blackboard Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

Unit VIII Scholarly Activity

Write two obituaries (minimum 250 words each) in remembrance of President Abraham Lincoln. To complete this assignment, you are going to assume the role of an editor for a fictional newspaper on two distinctly different dates.

It is your choice of who your audience is and what emotion the content contains, but each article should provide a perspective on the political, economic, and social impact that he had on the nation before, during, and after the Civil War.

1. The first will be dated April 16, 1865, and will need to assume the role of an obituary from that date. Keep in mind what would be known, thought, and felt at that time.
2. The second will be dated April 16, 2015, and will need to assume the role of a remembrance of his legacy. Consider his legacy 150 years after his death.

Both obituaries will be submitted together as one document. The details about Lincoln’s time, location, and cause of death will of course be common to all obituaries and do not need to be cited; any other materials (e.g., quotes, accounts) must be cited and referenced using APA style. Do not reprint an actual obituary from the time as it will lead to steep deductions.

Information about accessing the Blackboard Grading Rubric for this assignment is provided below.

APA Guidelines

CSU requires that students use APA style for papers and projects. Therefore, the APA rules for formatting, quoting, paraphrasing, citing, and listing of sources are to be followed. Students can find CSU's Citation Guide in the myCSU Student Portal by clicking on the “Citation Resources” link in the “Learning Resources” area of the myCSU Student Portal. This document includes examples and sample papers and provides information on how to contact the CSU Success Center.

Grading Rubrics

This course utilizes analytic grading rubrics as tools for your professor in assigning grades for all learning activities. Each rubric serves as a guide that communicates the expectations of the learning activity and describes the criteria for each level of achievement. In addition, a rubric is a reference tool that lists evaluation criteria and can help you organize your efforts to meet the requirements of that learning activity. It is imperative for you to familiarize yourself with these rubrics because these are the primary tools your professor uses for assessing learning activities.

Rubric categories include: (1) Assessment (Written Response) and (2) Assignment. However, it is possible that not all of the listed rubric types will be used in a single course (e.g., some courses may not have Assessments).

The Assessment (Written Response) rubric can be found embedded in a link within the directions for each Unit Assessment. However, these rubrics will only be used when written-response questions appear within the Assessment.

Each Assignment type (e.g., article critique, case study, research paper) will have its own rubric. The Assignment rubrics are built into Blackboard, allowing students to review them prior to beginning the Assignment and again once the Assignment has been scored. This rubric can be accessed via the Assignment link located within the unit where it is to be submitted. Students may also access the rubric through the course menu by selecting “Tools” and then “My Grades.”

Again, it is vitally important for you to become familiar with these rubrics because their application to your Assessments and Assignments is the method by which your instructor assigns all grades.
Communication Forums

These are non-graded discussion forums that allow you to communicate with your professor and other students. Participation in these discussion forums is encouraged, but not required. You can access these forums with the buttons in the Course Menu. Instructions for subscribing/unsubscribing to these forums are provided below.

Once you have completed Unit VIII, you MUST unsubscribe from the forum; otherwise, you will continue to receive e-mail updates from the forum. You will not be able to unsubscribe after your course end date.

Click here for instructions on how to subscribe/unsubscribe and post to the Communication Forums.

Ask the Professor

This communication forum provides you with an opportunity to ask your professor general or course content questions. Questions may focus on Blackboard locations of online course components, textbook or course content elaboration, additional guidance on assessment requirements, or general advice from other students.

Questions that are specific in nature, such as inquiries regarding assessment/assignment grades or personal accommodation requests, are NOT to be posted on this forum. If you have questions, comments, or concerns of a non-public nature, please feel free to email your professor. Responses to your post will be addressed or emailed by the professor within 48 hours.

Before posting, please ensure that you have read all relevant course documentation, including the syllabus, assessment/assignment instructions, faculty feedback, and other important information.

Student Break Room

This communication forum allows for casual conversation with your classmates. Communication on this forum should always maintain a standard of appropriateness and respect for your fellow classmates. This forum should NOT be used to share assessment answers.
